SPEAKERS AND TOPICS

PAUL McLOUGHLIN - Owner, Word of Mouth Communications

'Paulitical' Wild Ride

Understanding political risk in our own backyard has become critical for Alberta businesses. Paul McLoughlin, long-time political analyst and commentator, will share his informative and entertaining perspective of the political landscape shaping Alberta and Canada. He will provide an overview of anticipated changes and the impact to policy, trade, business and the future.

JENNIFER MILLER - Partner, Bennett Jones

Highs and Lows: Conquering Current Workplace Challenges

The legalization of marijuana stimulated a lot of conversation and controversy. Do you remember what you thought the impact would be on your business? Let's find out what has actually happened in the workplace, as a consequence of cannabis legalization. In addition to the conversation about cannabis, Jennifer will also share information about emerging compliance challenges regarding Alberta's new occupational health and safety legislation.

BLAKE LOATES - Mental Health Advocate

Messages of Hope

Does the topic of mental health make you uncomfortable? What do you say or how should you react to an employee, colleague or even a friend who is experiencing mental health challenges? Blake Loates will provide powerful perspective on this topic. She is an award winning photographer, the only Canadian selected to Facebook's Community Leadership program and creator of the mental health peer support community "We Believe in You". Blake is a powerful Edmonton-based mental health advocate and is leading the way in raising awareness about mental health issues. Blake will have an honest and authentic dialogue about mental health by sharing her personal journey and insight. She will also offer practical tips for breaking down barriers to mental health conversations. She believes that education is the key in fighting the stigma associated with mental illness.

SPEAKERS AND TOPICS

MICHAEL KULCHISKY - FMI

Keep Calm and Stay Focused

Looking ahead through 2019 and into the 2020 Canadian Construction Market, Michael Kulchisky will share the FMI perspective on the market, project spending, provincial views and contractor engaged feedback. Michael will speak to how you can stay focused on opportunities despite potential economic and political disruptors. "It's time to take advantage of the opportunities that exist, assess your future options and build resiliency in your organization when the demands are not so acute."

ALYSIA LOHNER - Priority Credit Management

Avoiding the Lien

Construction liens are a necessary evil in the contracting world. They are frictional, cumbersome, cause delays and affect relationships on many levels. Alysia will speak to what you can do if you find yourselves in this situation. She will outline the risks, exposures and provide recommendations on how you might avoid lien situations and exercise credit due diligence.

KELLY BUCHBERGER - Keynote Speaker

Off the Ice

Kelly Buchberger is a former Oiler's Captain, two time Stanley Cup Winner and current coach of the WHL's Tri City Americans. Admired (and feared) for his gritty on-ice play, it's Kelly's off-ice story that most aren't familiar with and which truly exemplifies perseverance. A serious childhood accident could have forever changed his life, but Kelly's determination and mindset for winning carried him through the pain of learning to walk again, allowing him to return to the sport he loved, and living life to its fullest. This conversation with Kelly will go far beyond hockey stories. As an NHL Captain and a Coach, Kelly will speak to his experience in leading and motivating a team, and mentoring talented and ambitious youth. In addition, having built a strong family unit while often separated by distance for extended periods, Kelly will share some his personal stories and life lessons.
